

I think the "No Call" list should be maintained. I believe allowing people to telephone me in order to sell me something - just because they have my telephone number - is an invasion of my privacy.